FLOODS NORTH SWELL ALL RIVERS

Sacramento River Reached 18 Feet at Capital—Warnings Issued

TWENTY-FIVE FEET IS PREDICTED FOR TOMORROW

Pitt, Yuba, Deer, Feather and American Rivers Running High

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 31.—The water is menacing here and all points north of Feather River, according to weather bureau bulletins, and warnings have been issued. At 10 o'clock this morning the Sacramento river here reached the eighteen-foot stage, and is rising at the rate of one foot per hour. Twenty-nine feet is the danger point. The weather bureau predicts it will reach twenty-five feet before tomorrow night.

It is raining furiously today and predictions are that it will continue tomorrow and tomorrow night. It rained all during the night, throughout the Sacramento watershed. This means that the Pitt, Yuba, Deer, Feather and American rivers are emptying millions of gallons hourly into the Sacramento. The levees hereabouts were recently strengthened and there is no immediate apprehension.

Levees Stood 1909 Test
On Jan. 17, 1909 the levees here withstood twenty-nine feet, the highest water in the history of the bureau here. In that year the American river flood, near here, caused heavy damage to railroad bridges. One of these bridges was rebuilt and others strengthened, but it is feared the high water will again cause damage. At Colusa and Knights Landing the levees are none too secure, but dredgers are there ready to strengthen them at a moment's notice.

Storm Does Much Damage
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 31.—A terrific storm prevailed today along the northern and central California coast, and the interior was lashed with wind and rain. Heavy damage was done on land and sea. The Sacramento and tributary rivers are rising rapidly and threatening a flood. The entire eastern section of Napa is flooded on account of the sudden rise of the Napa river. Scores of families in the low-lying districts are marooned. James Clark, a truck man, was drowned while trying to rescue a marooned woman and children. Old inhabitants of Martin county say the storm is the most severe which ever visited that section. The lower section of San Rafael is under water and Larkspur, Kent, Field and Ross are isolated by water which runs over railroad tracks. All of the Northwestern Pacific trains are late. At Shellville 100 feet of track was washed out and five inches of rain fell in twenty-four hours at Redding.

The downpour continues and the Shasta route of the Southern Pacific is blocked by landslides. It is estimated it will take twenty-four hours to clear the tracks unless there are further slides. The river reached the twenty-four foot stage at Red Bluff. The town will be flooded if it reaches twenty-six. The Northern California Power company's lines are down and Chico, Redding, Red Bluff and Anderson are without light. Scores of bridges are washed away. Six houses at Keswick are unroofed and the river is fifteen feet above normal at Redding and still rising.

RELICS OF WASHINGTON SOLD—HAIR CHEAP

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—Coincidentally, from London and New York came to light two curious items of Americans, both concerning souvenirs of George Washington's administration as first president of the United States. It appears that the famous general's hair is declining in price while one of his letters is selling at a high figure.

The hair, which is asserted upon oath to have been clipped from the head of Washington by one of the pallbearers and which sold last year for $480, was disposed of for $100. At the same time in London a letter written by Washington on the day after his election as the first president was sold for $900. The letter is one to Samuel Powell, dated February 5, 1789.

U. S. COMMERCE COURT IS OUT OF EXISTENCE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—The United States Commerce Court went out of existence today, under legislative enactment.

This will be remembered as one of ex-President Taft's pet schemes, forced on an unwilling country.

Rockefeller's Fortune Increased by Verse from Book Exodus

WOOSTER, O., Dec. 31.—A story of how a verse in the Book of Exodus aided John D. Rockefeller to increase his fortune was related here yesterday by Charles Whitshot, geologist and oil and gas expert of the Standard Oil company, who has just returned from Egypt. The verse in question tells of the use of pitch in making the craft in which the babe Moses was set adrift," said Whitshot, "and Chief Geologist Alphant of the Standard reasoned that where there was pitch there was oil. I was sent out to investigate and three wells now in operation, with more being developed, are the result."

Shipwrecked Crew Taken From Island
NORFOLK ISLAND, Australasia, Dec. 31.—The crew of the shipwrecked schooner Eldoran of San Francisco, after a forced stay of six months on Easter Island, a Chilean possession, about 2000 miles out in the Pacific ocean, was picked up and rescued by the Knight of the Garter, a British steamer, while it was making the voyage from Valparaiso to New Castle, N. S. W.

They Don't Have To Enter Rear Door

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—It is not compulsory upon tradesmen in Washington to use the entrances of apartment houses designated for them by the customary sign, provided they don't carry bundles or packages. A decision to this effect has just been handed down by Judge Pugh in the district police court in the case of a tailor who charged that a negro janitor of an apartment house pushed him when he attempted to use the front entrance.

Wants to Have Old Age Pensions

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—A plea for a national old age pension system was made to the international commission on internal relations yesterday by John A. Fitch, a magazine writer.

Famous Picture Still Travels

PARIS, Dec. 31.—The train bearing Da Vinci's Mona Lisa, found at Florence after the theft from the Louvre, crossed the French border today. Curator La Plénière of Louvre met the train and French gendarmes relieved the Italian carabinieri in guarding the treasure as it resumed its journey to Paris.

Company Held Responsible for Deaths

NEWCASTLE, Colo., Dec. 31.—Responsibility for the death of thirty-eight men in the Vulcan mine explosion is laid at the door of the Correll Leasing company today by a coroner's jury. It was declared proper precautions were not taken.

Big Dam for Turlock Will Cost About $2,000,000

MODESTO, Dec. 31.—Maps of dam No. 2, which is being planned for storage of water by the Turlock district on Tuolumne River several miles above La Grange dam, were filed today at Sacramento. The proposed dam will be 283 feet high, with an upper width of 300 feet and its estimated cost is $2,000,000. Modesto may join with Turlock in its construction.

COTTON BRINGS GOOD PRICES

EL CENTRO, Dec. 31.—Imperial Valley Durango cotton is now quoted $10 per bale over that of Mississippi River Valley cotton as contained in the quotations sent out by the New Orleans Exchange. The latest December prices were 12227 in El Centro, which means that more is paid for Imperial Valley Durango laid down in New Orleans or the Eastern markets than is paid for Southern cotton at the same place.

The freight rate to Eastern points on Durango cotton that is shipped from the Imperial Valley is $1.30 per hundred, which, added to the closing quotation of 12625, makes a price delivered there of 13925, the difference on a 600-pound bale amounting to $10, which is construed by Manager T. D. McCall of the local cotton exchange to mean that Imperial growers of Durango cotton are receiving this substantial premium over Eastern and Southern competitors.

You are invited to attend the New Year's Ball at Armory Hall tonight. Don't forget.

SLOW THAWING LEMONS HURT LESS

Tests Made by Agricultural Department in Southern California

FROSTED GROVE CROP IS SAVED BY QUICK ACTION

After January Freeze San Dimas Fruit Stored in Warm Room

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—"Lemons which have been frosted should be thawed gradually, as the injury then will be much less than if the fruit is allowed to remain where it will thaw out rapidly."

This is the conclusion which has been reached by the experts as a result of tests made in Southern California immediately following the frost of January 6, last.

Citrus growers have often noticed that there was less damage to their lemon crop when a cloudy morning followed a frost than when the sun came out bright and warm. In the department's experiments on the cooling of fruit previous to shipment, no apparent damage was done to lemons even when the temperature of the cars went considerably below 32 deg. Fahrenheit. The specialists of the Bureau of Chemistry at the citrus products laboratory in Los Angeles, in cooperation with the lemon association of San Dimas, finally put to a practical test the theory that such part of the crop from a frosted grove as can be picked soon enough and stored in a room where the temperature was between 45 deg. and 50 deg. Fahrenheit. Samples of this fruit were compared each week for several months with unfrozen lemons stored under the same conditions for the same length of time, and with fruit which had been left on the trees in the frosted grove. In appearance, taste, freight, acidity and quantity of juice, a large proportion of the frosted lemons, which were picked and stored where they thawed gradually, compared well with the unfrozen fruit. That which was left on the trees lost juice rapidly and decreased in specific gravity and general appearance due to an ever-increasing thickness of the skin and to puffy, hollow centers.

Following the severe frost of last January, a number of boxes of frosted lemons from a grove near the San Dimas packing-house were gathered and stored in a room where the temperature was between 45 deg. and 50 deg. Fahrenheit. Samples of this fruit were compared each week for several months with unfrozen lemons stored under the same conditions for the same length of time, and with fruit which had been left on the trees in the frosted grove. In appearance, taste, freight, acidity and quantity of juice, a large proportion of the frosted lemons, which were picked and stored where they thawed gradually, compared well with the unfrozen fruit. ## OFFICERS MAY ARREST DRIVERS

Automobilists Have No Relief, License Law Effective January 1

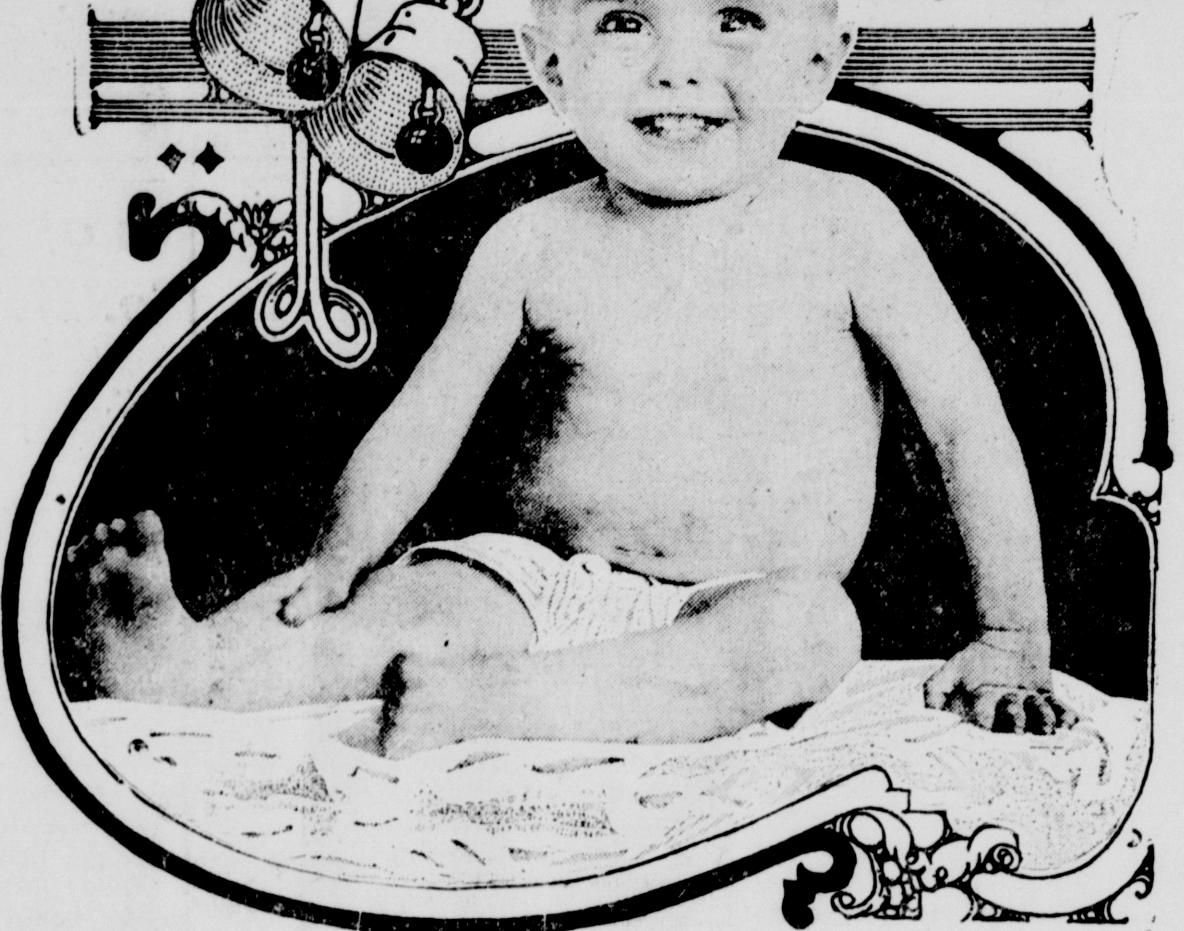

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 31.—In spite of the fact that 80,000 of more than 100,000 owners of motor cars in California will not be provided with licenses Jan. 1, the law will be effective, and no relief is offered to motorists should any official cause their arrest for failure to have a license. This information is contained in a telegram to William Armsby of the state engineering department, which declares that the legislature has set Jan. 1 as the date when the new motor vehicle tax law becomes effective and has no ministerial officer can suspend its operation. Ormsby declared that any action will be taken, however, at the discretion of state, county or municipal officers.

GOT $125,000 FROM MOVING PICTURE CONCERN

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 31.—"Jack" Binns, the wireless operator hero of the steamer Republic disaster in 1909, will receive $125,000 because a moving picture concern exploited a fake portrait of him. The court of appeals yesterday upheld the judgment for that amount obtained against the company.

Two days after the collision, the company showed a moving picture of the accident with an alleged portrait of Binns, with the legend "Jack Binns and His Good American Smile." Binns sued the motion picture company for $50,000. At the trial the picture was shown to the jury and it gave Binns $125,000. The judge set the verdict aside as excessive, and asked Binns to agree to a reduction to $25,000. He refused, and carried up the case.

"HERE I AM!" 1914

HARRIS SAYS SLEW PENDELL

Negro Murderer of Mrs. Gray Confesses More—Says Hid Diamonds

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 31.—Burr Harris, confessed slayer of Mrs. Rebecca P. Gray and Mrs. Haskins, and now in the Folsom prison under sentence to be hung on February 13, for taking the life of the former, confessed yesterday to Sheriff Hammel, in the presence of three witnesses, that he also is the slayer of C. E. Pendell, the Los Angeles loan agent, in the Temple block. According to the confession, which was wired here late last night by Sheriff Hammel, Harris struck Pendell with a piece of gas pipe, the weapon being similar to the one used in slaying Mrs. Gray. "After he fell, I smothered him with a pillow," Harris is reported to have said, "and then robbed the office of $5000 worth of diamonds. These are now buried near the city limits of Los Angeles, on the San Diego road, and if I am taken back to Los Angeles by Sheriff Hammel I will see that the diamonds are dug up."

District Attorney J. D. Fredericks when told last night that Harris had confessed to slaying Pendell, declared such a solution of the mystery would upset every theory heretofore advanced, as every clue, he said, pointed in another direction.

Officers Doubt Story
District Attorney Fredericks and detectives who worked on the Pendell case, doubt the truth of the confession and say they believe Harris declared he killed Pendell in order to get a trip to Los Angeles, thinking possibly to escape or at least to have a week away from the death cell at Folsom. No word was received this morning from Sheriff Hammel, who is at Folsom.

OAKLAND'S RED LIGHT DISTRICT TO PASS OUT

OAKLAND, Dec. 31.—The red light district will close forever tomorrow at 2 o'clock in the morning, in accordance with an order issued by Commissioner of Public Safety and Health Fred C. Turner. For the last time on New Year's eve, the rookeries will resound with rabel and the mechanical piano. At the present time there are twenty-three known disorderly houses here, with 200 inmates. Many inmates will open houses at Emeryville, adjoining Oakland.

MURDERER PERHAPS INSANE

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—It was predicted here today that Hans Schmidt, who killed Anna Ammiller, will be brought before a lunacy commission before he is tried again for murder. If he is deemed insane there will be no further trial. The jury which tried him during the last few days disagreed and was discharged last night.

THIRTEEN KOREANS EXECUTED

TOKIO, Dec. 31.—Thirteen Koreans were publicly executed at Taihoku today. They were accused of plotting to overthrow Japanese rule at Formosa.

STRIKE PROBLEM REMAINS SAME

Investigation Made at Calumet into Christmas Eve Panic

CALUMET, Mich., Dec. 31.—Uncompromising adherence to their determination never by direct or indirect means to recognize the Western Federation of Miners, was pronounced today by mine managers of the copper strike district who were willing to discuss the visit here of John B. Densmore, solicitor of the Department of Labor.

The fact that Densmore had announced his mission as one of conciliation made most of the employers shake their heads dubiously. "We could not treat with the Federation even if we wished," said F. W. Denton, manager of the Copper Range Consolidated Company. "The men at work would never consider employment underground with members of the union, for there always would be trouble, and in view of the fact that 10,000 men are working for the companies, we cannot ignore their interests."

Grand Jury Reconvened
The Houghton County special grand jury reconvened today at Hancock. Prosecutor Lucas has promised a full investigation of the charge of President Charles H. Moyer of the Western Federation of Miners that before his departure from Hancock he was beaten and shot by members of the Citizens' Alliance. The citizens admit deportation but deny the shooting or beating.

At Red Jacket, the coroner continued the inquest over seventy victims of the Christmas eve panic. Many witnesses were examined but no important testimony developed. Judge Hilton, one of the strikers' lawyers, said that he would produce witnesses to swear that a member of the Citizens' Alliance gave the false fire alarm, causing the tragedy. He added that he is ready to prove that Alliance members assailed Moyer. Congressman McDonald is personally investigating the situation and said: "It seems to me that the sight of the crushed bodies of children lying on the floor should have shocked the warring factions into a realization of what they are doing, but such has not been the case. Few realize the gravity and terrible danger of the situation. If we are to avert greater calamity, law and order must be restored, and lawlessness punished, no matter who is responsible."

KING OF SPAIN

RUMORED ILL

MADRID, Dec. 31.—King Alfonso is seriously ill, according to a widespread rumor. It has been an open secret for some time that the king is suffering from a tuberculous growth in the nose, but it is not generally believed that he is in immediate danger. The latest accounts say that it is unsafe to wait until April, when an operation was planned, and it is believed the king will start soon for Vienna to submit to the knife.

PETITIONS BEAR MANY NAMES

Life of California Liquor Business in "Danger," Say Officials

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 31.—That the life of the liquor business in California is in danger, is the belief of statisticians in the office of Secretary of State Jordan, who have been examining the petitions in the various initiative measures. The prohibition petition already bears 43,644 names, more signatures by far than carried by any other petition. Its total is 10,000 greater than that required by law to place the measure on the ballot at the next general election. More than 65 per cent of the signatures came from Los Angeles county. Women figured equally with men among the signers. Indications are, if the petitions may be accepted as such, that the next election's register will contain almost as many names of women as of men.

Proponents of the petition say that if 70 per cent of the women who register vote for state-wide prohibition, but 40 per cent of the male vote will be needed to banish booze. They claim that more than 70 per cent of the women voters will be opposed to continuance of the present liquor policies.

WOMAN CALLED JUDGE LIAR

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 31.—Superior Court Judge Dunne still is smarting under the lash of the tongue of a woman who told him he lied. A woman was passed by one of a committee of five women who brought him and District Attorney Flickert together to ascertain why the grand jury could not be dismissed for dropping its investigation or alleged forgeries to the red light abatement referendum petition.

"Why can't you dismiss the grand jury?" demanded one of the women of the judge.

"I can, but I won't," was his answer.

"When we saw you before you said you could dismiss the jury," persisted the woman.

"Oh, no, I didn't. You must have misunderstood me."

"You lie!" was the woman's retort.

Judge Dunne plainly was nettled. He replied:

"If you women want to do something worth while why don't you organize a committee for the suppression of the tango or the abolition of the split skirt?"

DAYTON TO PUT ON NEW CIVIC DRESS

Will Inaugurate Commissioner Government on First Day of Year

FIRST SIZABLE CITY TO ADOPT THE NEW METHOD

Eyes of Country Will Be Turned on City—Henry M. Waite Has Manager's Job

DAYTON, O., Dec. 31.—Dayton will inaugurate its commissioner-manager form of government tomorrow. Plans were completed today to celebrate the event appropriately. The operation of the system will be closely watched by civic experts and municipal authorities of the entire country because Dayton is the first city of any size to adopt the commissioner-manager form of government. Henry M. Waite, former city engineer of Cincinnati, is Dayton's "general manager." Col. George W. Goethals, builder of the Panama canal, refused an offer of $25,000 to accept the post. Waite will receive a salary of $12,500 annually, or $500 more annually than is paid to the governor of Illinois, the highest paid executive of any state in the Union, and $2500 more than the governor of Ohio. There are but four other states besides Ohio which pay their chief executives $10,000 a year.

Politics do not figure in the city manager form of government. City Manager Waite, an appointive officer, will in turn appoint every city official excepting, of course, the five city managers who were selected by the people.

The commissioners are George W. Shroyer, A. L. Mendenhall, J. M. Switzer, John R. Plotron and John A. McGee. Shroyer is mayor by virtue of having received a greater number of votes than any commissioner elected. There is no city council. Mayor Shroyer will merely preside over the meetings of the board of commissioners. Each commissioner receives an annual salary of $1200. The mayor gets $600 additional.

Functions of city government under the commissioner-manager plan are divided into the departments of law, public service, public welfare, public safety, and finance. City Manager Waite within the next few days will designate one of these departments for each of the five commissioners. Then he will appoint the city officials.

City Manager Waite will be the most powerful man in civic affairs in the United States. He will have full control. He'll be the "absolute boss." But the people are not worrying, as Waite was appointed because his political affiliations are nil.

OREGON GOVERNOR TO CLOSE SALOONS

SALEM, Ore., Dec. 31.—Despite protests, Governor West adhered to his determination to send his secretary, Miss Fern Hobbs, to Copperfield to close the saloons. The governor, upon complaint of certain residents of Copperfield, ordered the saloons closed, but the sheriff and district attorney of Baker county defied him, saying the act is unconstitutional. Many officials of the town are saloon men. The governor said that he would personally see the saloons closed, therefore he announced that he would send Miss Hobbs, and the girl this afternoon is preparing for the trip. There are only three trains there weekly and the town is a remnant of the wild west. It is a rough logging camp.

The governor refused to say what method the girl will use to close the saloons, but said "She'll close them all right."

SEARCHERS ORDERED TO SHOOT TO KILL

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 31.—With fresh burglaries and highway robberies being added nightly to the list created by Frank Melville and James Hurley, the San Quentin prison authorities redoubled their efforts today to recapture the escaped convicts.

The searchers have abandoned the theory that the fugitives had crossed to the east shores of San Francisco bay and fully 300 men are searching the Marin county hills. Both men are heavily armed. The searchers have been ordered to "shoot to kill."

SILVER COIN BELIEVED HIDDEN BY THIEVES

OROVILLE, Calif., Dec. 31.—The California Banking Association detectives believe that $2,000 in silver coin stolen from the First National Bank here recently, is hidden near the city. They say it was too heavy to carry far without attracting attention. They are searching the vicinity for the coin, and believe they will find it soon. No trace has been found of the thieves.

BY WIRELES
SWINDLER IS TO BE CAUGHT

Man Who Got $3500 Loan on Stolen Anaheim Brewery
Stock Located

Los Angeles Times: A relentless search by the Pinkertons for G. Burr Casler, a debonair carthorse broker of this city, is rapidly nearing its end. The man, who is charged with stealing 108 shares of the Anaheim Union Brewery Company's stock, and getting a loan of $3500 on it from the First National Bank of Anaheim, has been located on the high seas. The Pinkertons have sent radio-grams in every direction to find the young man and at last they discovered that Casler was on a steamer bound for Australia. There is no legal way of transshipping him before he reaches land even if an American ship should pass, but when he touches shore the grip of the law, reaching 6500 miles across the ocean, will be on him. The detectives claim that he was accompanied on his alleged flight by a woman known to his friends as Mrs. Casler. It is probable that the new grand jury will return an indictment against Casler in order to aid the detectives in extraditing their prisoner. Though the cost of getting him back here if he fights extradition in the Australian courts may exceed the sum he is alleged to have stolen, the detective agency and the county of Los Angeles will get him at any cost. He is due to land at Sydney on Monday and the officers expect to have him back here by February 15. Caught By Wireless It is a modern story of the detection of an alleged fugitive by means of the wireless. A few years ago the clever young broker could have easily escaped to oriental ports and lost himself. But today with the aid of wireless anyone can be reached on shipboard and the captains always try to find the men wanted as part of maritime law. Superintendent Hatter of the local Pinkerton agency, says that A. Silvers owned 108 shares of the brewery stock, which at par is worth $19,800. He entrusted it to John K. Tennant, a broker in the Consolidated Realty building. The story is that Casler strolled in one day and on being told about the stock said he believed he had a customer for it. While Tennant's back was turned it is averred that the other slyly abstracted the certificates from an envelope containing other papers. It is alleged he went to Anton Hessel, at the First National Bank of Anaheim, and there got a loan of $3500. He then departed, so it is said, and two days later was sailing from San Francisco. Beats Hotel Bills Prior to departure for the Antipodes, Casler and his wife were among those who enjoyed the good things of life in Los Angeles. They were residing at one of the fashionable West Seventh street apartments and on the day of departure, when requested to settle the account which had run over the month, Casler produced a large roll of bills. The smallest of these he said was for $100 and asked the landlady to change it. She did not have the amount in her cash drawer, and hurried out to some of the surrounding stores to secure the needed money. When she returned, she says, the Caslers had departed by a rear entrance, leaving nothing as security. When Casler is returned to this city several additional charges may be filed against him, according to Tennant, who, with Silvers, is pressing the complaint.

Begin the New Year Right--Buy a FORD

You won't take the up-grades of 1914 on the "high speed" if your mental cylinders are clogged with carbon. Get out of doors—out on the "open road." Let the sunshine and fresh air in—and keep the doctor out. That old god Atlas may have carried the world on his shoulders, but it's round dollars to musty walnuts that the Ford Model T is carrying more of it on its four wheels. There are nearly 1000 Ford owners now in Orange county. Ask any one of them how they like their car. GET THE FACTS—ALL OF THEM. You can't reach the right conclusion on partial information—and the owner is the fellow who knows.

WEBBER VIEWS ANOTHER SITE

Was at Orange Yesterday
Looking Over Property
Offered for Station

(By Staff Correspondent)
ORANGE, Dec. 31.—Dr. H. J. Webber, head of the Southern California citrus experiment station, was in this city yesterday looking over another prospective site for the new experiment station which the state proposes to erect at some suitable point.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Miller left today for Santa Monica to visit over New Year's day.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hart will visit from this evening until Friday with Miss Lillie Stanley of Pasadena, taking in the Tournament of Roses.

George Holditch of Villa Park will leave this evening for an over-New Year's visit with friends in Pasadena. The rainfall for the last storm, as measured at 8 o'clock this morning, amounted to .45 inches. This boosts the total rainfall for the season to date to 3.49 inches, which is considered an excellent showing this early in the season. The rain yesterday and last night was of the light, penetrating character that soaks into the ground, and very little of which is wasted by running off. It will be of inestimable good in the opinion of the ranchers and orchardists.

W. H. Gibberd has arrived from Boise, Idaho, to make his home. The family has lived here since April.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Kuesel will attend the Tournament of Roses in Pasadena tomorrow.

Mrs. N. B. Spray is in Los Angeles on a business trip today.

Miss Bessie B. Lea has sold her millinery business on East Chapman avenue to the Misses Lottie and Clara Carriker. Miss Lea has been in business here for about eleven years, and has been very successful. Miss Lottie Carriker has been connected with the store for four years, and the business will be carried on in the same manner.

5000 COLLEGIANS TO BE AT STUDENT VOLUNTEERS' MEET

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 31.—Five thousand college students were expected to attend the quadrennial meeting of the Students' Volunteer movement which opened here today. Eighty foreign countries will be represented, headed by 200 Christian Chinese students.

Secretary of State Bryan and John R. Mott, who declined appointment of Minister to China, and scores of other speakers prominent in religious and educational circles will attend. All of the official delegates are pledged to devote their lives to foreign missions in an effort to evangelize the world in this generation.

HOW TO KEEP FAMILY OF FIVE ON $9 PER WEEK

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—How to be happy and healthy—fed and clothed—on $9 a week if you have a family of five! Such is the problem which social workers have started to solve at Neighborhood House, in which Mrs. Woodrow Wilson is interested. There they have a "model home," and there the girls of the poorer sections of the nation's capital are taught the scientific principles of how to make both ends meet—on nine dollars a week—with five in the family.

The home is a typical Washington alley home, except that it is clean throughout. Cleanliness is the first precept that the instructors instill into the minds of their young pupils. Housekeeping under difficulties is the gentle art that these social workers are teaching—and teaching from the kitchen to the garret. Thus far the course has dealt mainly with the food problem, but later the question of clothes will be considered—all on the nine dollars a week.

ALUMNI TO DISCUSS TWO BURNING TOPICS

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—"Sufrage and Socialism" will be the subject of discussion tonight following the banquet given to delegates to the fifth annual convention of the Intercollegiate Socialist Society, which is in session here with representatives of a score of universities and colleges present. Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch, president of the Women's Political Union; Morris Hillquit, prominent lawyer and author; George Lansbury, former member of the British Parliament, and the only male militant of England who has hunger struck (in jail); Dr. W. E. B. Dubois, editor of the Crisis, and Max Eastman, editor of the Masses, are among those who will speak tonight. John Temple Graves, Jr. of Princeton; Freda Kirchwey of Barnard College, and other prominent undergraduate members, also will speak. This afternoon's session of the convention was a "question box session" held at the Rand School of Social Science, at which William English Walling, Jessie W. Hugaton and Robert W. Bruere presided.

INDIAN WEALTH WORKS AGAINST MORAL EFFORT

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 30.—The wealth of the Indians in Oklahoma makes it difficult for missionaries to direct them in the ways they should go. Mrs. John Markoe said yesterday to the members of the Indian's Home Association at the Protestant Episcopal Church house. Mrs. Markoe, who presided at the meeting, in making a plea for the support of missions among the Indians, said the work has become harder because oil and coal had been discovered on the lands owned by the Indians, yielding to some as much as $300 a month. It is difficult to direct a wise use of this money after it leaves the agent's hands, she said, owing in part to the evil influence of white neighbors.

WISH TO SETTLE CONTROVERSY

President and Secretary Making Every Effort in Panama Trouble

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan are making extraordinary efforts to bring about an amicable settlement of the Panama canal controversy with Colombia. It is the hope of the President that this settlement may be effected by January 1, 1915, the date set for the official opening of the Panama canal to navigation. From sources close to the President it was learned that Mr. Wilson does not approve of the methods adopted by Colonel Roosevelt to obtain possession of the canal zone. The President is of the opinion that the canal zone should have been obtained by treaty or purchase from Colombia. It is not likely that the President will have anything to communicate to Congress until late next summer or until the beginning of the next Congress, as he wishes to accomplish something definite before making any report.

BONDSMEN HAVE SECOND MORTGAGE DYER'S HOME

Fraternal Zed is What Got Machle and Webb a Paper

ANAHEIM, Dec. 31.—Fraternal zeal cost Frank Machle and W. B. Webb, two citizens of this city, $5000 yesterday. At the time of the arrest of Herbert Dyer, on a felony charge, Machle and Webb, who are members of the same order, gave a $5000 bond to insure his appearance before Justice Cox at Santa Ana yesterday morning. Dyer in return for their display of confidence secured Machle and Webb to the extent of giving them a second mortgage on a twenty-acre ranch he owns east of town, after which generosity he disappeared. Although it was known that Dyer left town the evening of the 23rd, his wife, who is the mother of the 13-year-old girl whom Dyer is accused of molesting, declared that he would pull in his appearance yesterday, but on his failure to do so the bond was declared forfeited. The two bondsmen have appealed to the authorities to aid in locating Dyer. Under the auspices of the Anaheim Fire and Drug Corps, the New Year will be ushered in its own at a dance which will be held at the opera house Wednesday evening. Appropriate arrangements have been made by William Hanz, manager of the corps, and its celebration promises to exceed all previous efforts of the successful entertainers.

The nineteenth reunion of the 1905 class of the Anaheim Union High School was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Messler. Of the original nineteen members the following were present: Mesdames M. W. Skinner, Joyd Messler, Victor Lamonte, Frank Borth; Messrs. Ned Merritt, Ernest Claybaugh, Leonard Evans, Herman W. Christensen, J. Leslie Swop David Carlsten and Percy Bradfield. Others present were Mrs. J. L. Wope, Messrs. Frank Borth, M. V. Skinner, Victor Lamonte and Lloyd Messler. Mrs. Victor Lamonte was elected permanent corresponding secretary. After a delightfully appointed supper the schoolmates indulged in a reminiscent hour and closed the meeting with several rousing class "yells."

This is one of a number of improvement projects planned or being carried out by this enterprising city.

IF NO RAIN, GAME IS TO BE PLAYED

This is the last call for the Alumni High School game. Tomorrow or never! If it doesn't rain the game will be played on the Poly High grounds as scheduled.

Several of the Alumni were visiting the High School today, probably trying to get a line on how big the score will be. "Shorty" Smith, "Snookie" Tedford, Sharp and a lot of the other Alumni were down at the Polytechnic. To talk with them one would think the High School boys have not a "look in." Still one never can tell.

THE DYING YEAR

The last hours of 1913 are with us. To a great many people they are no different from any other old hours. Nevertheless the current of time is bearing us all along and life's scenery changes as all drift out toward the eternal sea.

New Year's is not necessarily sad. It does not principally mean that so much of life is gone and that the rest should be hoarded as a miser hoards over his coins. No man gets the best of life at either extreme. He must not be a spendthrift of his days, nor on the other hand should he watch their passing with any stingy cupidity of life.

To people having any imagination this ending and beginning conveys some deeper meanings. It is naturally a time for the backward look. One should be able to review the months and find some positive gains. In these assets money should count least. Friendship, health, experience, courage, knowledge, culture, these are the real goods. It is commonly our fault if the year has not brought some such advances.

Certainly mirth and merry-making are not inappropriate for the dying year. The new period never looks so hopeful and alluring as when entered to the seductive strains of dance rhythms. Merry making is defined by some in terms of horn blowing and horse play, for one does not become a grown-up merely by acquiring the physical stature of manhood. With others New Year's means a futile yielding to treacherous enticements, with a headache, dark brown taste, and empty purse next day.

Certainly the New Year should bring some message of cheer to all. Few people are so shut in or so beaten down that the new page may not be a beginning of better things, if through all the storms of life, they have saved the seed of hope and purpose.

LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONING

Long distance telephone lines have just been opened from the East as far west continuously as Denver, California hopes to gossip with New York and Boston by the time the Panama fair opens.

The development of the telephone in this country, and the freedom with which it is used for long calls, are the wonder of the world. Over in Europe the telephone is still a good deal of a toy. Many business and social leaders use it with as much timidity and diffidence as if they were addressing a royal sovereign.

Only a half dozen years ago travelers in Europe, desiring to call persons a hundred miles away, were frequently discouraged from so doing, as the results were often unsatisfactory.

The London Engineering magazine recently predicted that by 1920 it would be possible for the people of the United States to talk with St. Petersburg. A considerable step was taken in that direction not long ago when telephone wires were laid under the English channel.

The difficulty in long distance telephony is not so much a question of having absolutely perfect instruments of a high degree of perfection, as it is a matter of the meeting of new conditions. These are difficult to describe to the non-technical reader, but could perhaps be expressed by saying that on long distances there seems to be an over accumulation of electrical energy that tends to confused and inarticulate sounds. Gradually this difficulty is being overcome.

Travelers from Europe are impressed by the clear, loud resonance of the telephone conversation in this country, a condition not fully developed across the water. The voice a thousand miles away may seem as near as if it were next door.

THE RACES OF BRITAIN

The international problem of England on the question of Oriental immigration is likely to settle, not merely for the British empire, but for the world, the attitude of this generation toward the mingling of the races.

The British Empire is the chief institution of modern times. It covers more of the world, more people, and more sorts of people, than any other single sovereignty ever included. Paradoxically enough, it has its center in the most racially intolerant people on earth, while its ramifications extend to all the races of the world. Certain of the British colonies are aggressively and exclusively English; others include the whole of the Hindu race, the chief seaport of the Chinese race, the most advanced portion of the home of the negro race, and important outposts touching all the other races in the world. To its characteristic English colonies Great Britain has extended a very large measure of self-government. These colonies are largely located in the temperate zone, and they have established in their various countries a distinctly Occidental civilization. They now demand and propose to enforce the separation of that civilization from Oriental civilizations and races.

The issue is so sharp that it practically involves the question of the maintenance of the English Empire. If these colonies are denied this privilege as members of the British empire they will refuse to remain in that empire. England would not attempt to retain their allegiance by force and could probably not do so if it tried. On the other hand, if the residents of a portion of the British Empire are permitted to exclude from entry into their countries the residents of other portions of the British Empire, the continuity of that empire is at once destroyed. Its Oriental dominions become mere colonies, which have duties toward the empire but no rights of membership in it. To maintain the allegiance of its white colonies, Great Britain may have to weaken the allegiance of its Oriental colonies, and jeopardize its position as the chief ally of Japan.

It is probably the most difficult problem which has faced British statesmen since the empire was stably established. Fortunately for the world it is a problem which the British Empire, precisely because it is an empire, can probably solve with less danger of breaking to pieces than would be present in any other method of approaching it. And when Great Britain does solve it, it is solved for the world. If the Hindus who are subjects of Great Britain, and the Japanese, who are allies of Great Britain, cannot enter British Columbia or Australia, which are parts of the British Empire, then the principle of the physical separation of the races will have been established by the only power which represents both sides of that question.—Fresno Republican.

THE CITRUS FRUIT INDUSTRY

Department of Service to Citrus Fruit Growers, Conducted Especially for the Register.

Copyrighted by Reginald Brinsmead.

CITRUS BY-PRODUCTS

The question of citrus by-products covering the major portion of the output of available material would create a practical monopoly and tend to the exclusion of competing factories, for any large contract must of necessity include all of the largest packing houses from which alone regular supplies could be assured.

And so we would reiterate two points upon which the value of the citrus products factory to the grower hinges: (1) that plans for the establishment of any extensive factories must contemplate purchase of "standard" as well as of cull fruits; (2) that the local cannery must manufacture the products if competition is to be guaranteed.

The California citrus industry is on the eve of the establishment of a most important subsidiary industry in the manufacture of citrus products. Immense capital will be invested and products running into the millions of dollars in value will eventually be produced. Should the control of this industry, at least so far as the sale and markets for the material available is concerned, pass out of the hands of the grower (and there are strong indications that efforts will be made to monopolize the business), its value to him will prove but a small one.

The importance of the developments now taking place should be appreciated and thoroughly understood by every citrus fruit grower in the state, large or small, for on the lines upon which the business is to be established within the next few years depend to a very appreciable extent his future profits and success.

"Many nickels make a muckle," so will the minor returns obtained from citrus products material aggregate large sums, not only to the citrus industry as a whole, but both directly and indirectly to the grower himself.

way to go home, he discovers the loss of his wallet with thirty-seven dollars, his six months' savings to buy Christmas gifts for "the folks back home." How did it happen?

There was a man in our town and he was wonderful wise; he knew a bit of everything and nothing could surprise this paragon of learning. 'Til he went against a snag up in the U. S. district court, a-listening to the rag that a lot of long-haired poets and poetesses, raving, said they gave to one Bob Kellogg, with the money they'd been saving. He promised, so they told the judge, to set their poems to music, but what he really did to them they said, just made the muse sick. For twenty-one similes, as witnesses told the stout, Kellogg would print each poem and emblazon on the front the picture of the author and a name fit for the song. He promised each some royalties when the sales got going strong.

The poets came from far and near to testify at length and every mother's son of them did tax the judge's strength of endurance by reciting some samples of his verse until the outraged jurist cried: "It could not hurt your words—his right name was Taylor—read a touching, ditty about a sweetheart and a sailor. Another chap from Texas with head devoid of hair read on and on and on and on until the court was in despair and declared at once a recess, amid the lawyers' cheers, to freshen up the atmosphere and mop away the tears.

The judge declined with frowning men to listen to more jingles. His nerves were frazzled out, he said, with all the thrills and tingles. The rhymesters were allowed to tell with gestures animated how Kellogg butchered up their songs and each they could go to send the man to prison, because to lily throbby pomes the court no more would listen. The thing that got Kellogg in bad was that he used the mail to interest the songbirds and gather in their kalo. For rhythm, feet and meter the court gave not a whoop. Was it by mail the poet boob became R. Kellogg's dupe?

Robert Kellogg, music publisher, was prosecuted by the federal authorities for fraud, on the complaint of various song writers that he took their songs and money and failed to publish their editions, as agreed. Kellogg explained that he had put out 1200 songs in five years and that his only defense was that he was behind in his work. He promised to fulfill all his promises if given time. The court took the case under advisement.

FOREST NOTES

The forest products laboratory at Madison, Wisconsin, has made 4,000 tests on the strength of American woods.

The gathering and selling of acorns is a new industry in Arkansas to supply eastern nursery firms with material for forest planting.

Thirty different wood preservatives are in commercial use in the United States; many of them utilize creosote, of one sort or another; others require chemical salts.

Last year the forest service distributed 116,000 basket willow cuttings, 15,000 to forest schools, 20,000 to agricultural experiment stations, and 81,000 to individuals.

More than 800,000 horsepower have been developed from streams on national forests under government regulation. This represents the output under conditions of lowest streamflow. Florida buttonwood, a tree confined largely to the keys along the south coast, is very highly prized for use in cooking on ship's galleys. It burns slowly with an even heat and makes but little smoke or ash.

Stomach Troubles Disappear

Stomach, liver and kidney troubles, weak nerves, lam back and female ills disappear when Electric Bitters are used. Thousands of women would not be without a bottle in their home. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Albright of 718 South Sycamore street, were hosts last night at a jolly function, their guests being the members of the choir of the M. E. Church, South. Mr. Albright is the choir director.

Late in the evening a delicious two-course lap supper was served. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gilbank, Miss Onita Buckler, Miss Hester Covington, Miss Dora Beecher and Bennett Carpenter.

A very pleasant evening was enjoyed and many interesting and amusing games served to make the time fairly fly. After the meeting, refreshments were served by the host and hostess, assisted by Mrs. Amos Cox.

A feature of the evening was the election of class officers for the new year, resulting as follows: President, Amos Cox; vice-president, R. R. Smith; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. W. H. Stevenson.

Monthly socials will be the program in the future for this wide-awake and enterprising class.

The election of teacher was postponed until Sunday morning.

PLUCKY GIRL BRAVED SNOW DRIFTS FOR SCHOOL EXAMINATION

Talk about pluck! A genuine case has just been exhibited by Miss Anna Sheridan, living thirty miles from Fort Collins, Colo. Ambitious to become a teacher, she braved the thirty-mile trip on the day of school examinations in Fort Collins, although five feet of snow covered the road between her and the Colorado city.

She covered ten miles on skis and then rode horseback for twenty miles. Ten minutes after she had dismounted in front of the high school she was answering the examination questions.

PHILATHEAS HAVE PARTY

President and Teacher of First Baptist Class Hostesses Last Night

Mrs. Z. B. West and her daughter, Miss Marguerite West, teacher and president of the Philathea class of the First Baptist church, were the charming hostesses last night at a Christmas tree and party at the hospitable West home on North Ross street.

Christmas decorations still prevailed, as the holiday time is not yet closed. Poinsettias adding grace to the scene. Despite the rain, the major part of the class braved the elements and were amply repaid, as the affair was a most delightful one. A book of clever resolutions had been prepared by Miss West and each girl was required to turn a leaf and do the "stunt" which she found there. This caused much merriment and brought out some clever things, among which was an ode to the new year. Magazines were then furnished and each member prepared a delineation for a month, which also showed the ingenuity of the young ladies. Gifts were then distributed from the pretty tree, each guest having brought one without a name, these being placed later. The present most appreciated was a "nest egg" presented the entire class by Mrs. West to be used in furnishing the new class room.

Before entering the dining room, each girl drew a star, which hung on the tree, and at the table read her horoscope. These were greatly enjoyed, as was also the delicious supper. Poinsettias and red-shaded candles added to the happy scene.

Intermediate Social
The Intermediate Society of the United Presbyterian church enjoyed a pleasant time at the home of Mrs. W. J. Lindsay on East Third street last evening. In spite of the rain, about twenty young people were out and were repaid with a rousing good time. Games of various kinds were played and in the story-telling contest Misses Marjorie McGee and Anna McFadden were awarded the prizes.

Delectable refreshments were served before the guests took their departure. The home was artistically decorated with pink and white Maman Cochet roses.

FOR COLLEGE YOUNG MEN

Mr. and Mrs. Winslow Hosts at Dinner in Honor of Bert Winslow

A number of college young men, friends of Bert Winslow, who has just finished his work at the University of California, were entertained last evening at a sumptuous turkey dinner by Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Winslow at their home on Pine street.

The prettily appointed table was bright with holly and red-shaded candles shed a soft glow over the scene. The boys brought good, healthy appetites and did full justice to the many appetizing dishes and after the meal, joined in singing college songs. They also indulged in reminiscences of college life.

Those present beside the host and hostess and honored young gentlemen were Raymond Waite, Newton Benedict, Art Hazard of Whittier, Paul Bruns of San Francisco and William Overshiner and Verne Baker.

Rain Spoiled Club Meeting
On account of the rain yesterday afternoon, the meeting of the Priscilla club, which was to have met with Mrs. Wilson at the home of her mother, Mrs. Coates, 501 East Fifth street, was postponed until next Tuesday at the same place.

Students' Recital
Miss Zoe Glidden will give a demonstration of the work of her music pupils, at 2:30 on Saturday, Jan. 3, at her studio, 117 1/2 West Fourth street. Those interested in the work of young children are especially invited to attend.

Miss Glidden will illustrate some interesting points in her teaching with the work of two little girls from her class in Hollywood, aged six and seven years, who have studied less than a year.

Woman's Club Social Time
Mrs. J. B. Rowland most delightfully entertained the members of the club yesterday afternoon at her pretty home on North Broadway. The rooms were bright with Christmas decorations and flowers.

There was a good attendance, considering that there was a steady down-pour of rain all the afternoon. Those who braved the elements felt well paid for the effort they had made.

Mrs. D. Scarborough added greatly to the pleasure of the guests by giving two excellent readings.

Married Today
Miss Marie Stempel of Fort Madison was married today to Karl B. Kennedy of San Diego at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Tiede. Rev. George Huser performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy went to San Diego, where they will make their home.

The bride is a friend of Mr. Tiede's daughter, who teaches school at Fort Madison, and came here to meet her husband.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Taylor went to Los Angeles today to witness a performance of "The Merchant of Venice." Miss Helen Johnston, who has been a house guest of Miss Mildred Taylor, returned with them.

Rev. and Mrs. R. S. Chase were morning passengers to the Angel City.

Miss Viola Hayes of Redondo Beach, who has been the guest of Miss Leora Peters since Monday, returned home this morning. Miss Hayes formerly resided here.

Miss Pearl Thompson went to San Diego yesterday to spend New Year's with relatives.

Roy Petersen was a business visitor in Los Angeles today.

Attorney Lee Daniels was among Santa Ana business men in Los Angeles today.

New Year greetings have been received here from Mr. and Mrs. Bury I. Dakyns, who now make their home at Bournemouth, Wales. Many of the old residents will recall this charming couple, who lived in the Red Hill section more than a score of years ago.

Mrs. J. W. Towner is visiting friends in Pasadena for a few days. George L. Godbery of 507 East Walnut street, who has been confined to his home for several weeks with a severe case of pleurisy, is much improved and it is expected that he will be around as usual in a few days.

Mrs. Viola A. Cramer has returned to her home in Los Angeles, after a pleasant over-Christmas visit at the Good Adams home on Pine street.

Miss Kittie Butler was here today from Los Angeles to attend the funeral of her uncle, A. S. Dunham. Miss Butler resided here for many years and her many old friends will be glad to learn that she is enjoying the best of health and still has a warm spot in her heart for Santa Ana.

VANDERMAST & SON

City Will Submit a Franchise to the P. E.

For an hour or more yesterday afternoon some city officials and A. V. Hill, special agent of the Pacific Electric, indulged in some straight-from-the-shoulder talk, with the result that Hill eventually saw the futility of attempting to get the franchise that his company asks for granted. The conference ended with an agreement that the Santa Ana officials prepare a franchise that they think fits the situation, and submit it to the P. E. officials to see if they will have it.

The long and short of the controversy is that the P. E. wants a franchise for a curve off Fourth street on to Main street at the First National Bank corner. The city wants the P. E. tracks extended eastward on Fourth street to the city limits. The city wants no question as to the building of the East Fourth street extension before it grants the curve. The real question is whether the curve is that when the line to Orange is in operation Los Angeles line cars will turn at Main street and go to Orange. It will be more convenient for the P. E. to make the turn direct than for it to pass by Main street and back on to Main street by the present curve at Rowley's corner.

Some of the city officials contended for more than the mere holding of a track out East Fourth. They declare that the citizens paid the P. E. a large sum of money to get the line to Santa Ana, and that the P. E. promised to run Los Angeles cars out East Fourth street, and that diverting them to Orange by way of Main street is a violation of the early agreement and the expectations of the people in the eastern part of the city who gave money to the right-of-way fund, the city now being to give East Fourth street a local service only.

At the meeting yesterday were Trustees Ey, McPhee, Alderman and Greenleaf, City Engineer Finley and City Attorney Heathman. The franchise up for discussion is one the P. E. asked for. It is a new franchise for the entire tracks on Fourth street, and will replace the old franchise on that street.

The request met with suspicion at first because the P. E. is intended only to build from the present terminus on East Fourth eastward to the city limits. It also included a change in the hours in which freight can be hauled. As presented it allowed for the cut-off at Main street.

Much of the opposition had been brought out at the time the special agent was before the trustees.

Yesterday a letter was presented by Hill from Paul Shoup, in which Shoup stated that the East Fourth extension would be built.

McPhee landed on the P. E., declaring that the letter's provision was that the line will be built "if the Railroad Commission grants a permit to cross the steam road tracks." Hill said the P. E. would not build if it had to build a subway, which might cost $200,000.

"If everything was thrown open, the only thing the P. E. wants in Santa Ana is that curve at Fourth and Main," said McPhee, "and I for one do not intend to vote to give them that or any franchise changes until it lives up to its promises. It promised for one thing to take steam locomotives off Second street, and it has not done it."

Hill declared that he considered McPhee's remarks at the council meeting some time ago as personal, and all he wanted to know from McPhee was yes or no. McPhee's answer was quickly no, with the addition that he had meant nothing personal in his remarks to Hill, and that if Hill did not own the P. E., and that if Hill was going to do business for the P. E., he ought to be thick-skinned enough to listen to accusations against the railway without taking the charges personally. He said he would not vote to grant the P. E. the very last favor it has to ask in Santa Ana until a lot of other things are straightened out.

Ey was opposed to the franchise. He said that if the city trustees had sold that franchise to the P. E. as it asked for it, the entire board would have been recalled within thirty days. McPhee left the conference.

Alderman suggested as a way out of the woods would be to have the city prepare a franchise that would be acceptable to three of the trustees, and submit it to the P. E.

This suggestion met with approval, and later conferences of city officials will be held to outline to the city attorneys provisions to be included in the franchise. None of its provisions have been decided upon.

AMUSEMENTS

The Troubadours tonight under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. at the Grand Opera House. Don't miss them. Read what western papers have to say of the combination appearing here tonight.

Fort Morgan, Colo., June 20, 1910. Mr. A. A. Davis, Chicago, Ill.:

Byron's Troubadours are the best attraction that has appeared here for some time. To select one feature stronger than the rest would require a professional critic; they were all excellent. Of course the Venetian trio and harp solo carried the people away as they always do when rendered by artists.

Very truly yours, CAPT. C. W. ROBINSON, Com'g Co. I, 1st Inf., N. G. C.

W. E. Ferguson, Exeter, Calif., February 1, 1913: Byron's Troubadours entertained at Exeter night of February 1st. Best audience for years. Applause was terrific. Each member of program prominent feature. Encore on most pieces went as high as three, four, five and six times. People of Exeter generally pronounced the Troubadours the musical wonders of the age.

At the Bell

On Thursday evening, January 1, the original James Kelly & Massey Company will open an engagement at this theater. These people have been secured at great expense and it is the intention of the managers to give the people of Santa Ana a real musical comedy show, one that will please both ladies and gentlemen, young and old.

The company consists of sixteen people, including eight character people. Kelly and Massey were here about two years ago, when they played a ten weeks' engagement at the Bell.

Mr. Kelly has with him Miss Lenett, who was recently with the Tick Tock Company, also Miss Parsons, the dainty little comedienne. Miss Massey, also, is always there with something good and will be given a hearty welcome when she returns to Santa Ana.

PLAYED PRACTICAL JOKE ON HUNGRY MEN

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 31.—Five hundred unemployed men are furious today at an unknown practical joker who telephoned the Unemployed League headquarters—that a dinner for 500 would be forthcoming at noon at the First Presbyterian church.

In lines of four the hungry men marched to the church, anticipating a real dinner. They stood outside in the rain for forty-five minutes before they realized that they were the victims of a "joke." There was no food for them, although an elaborate banquet was being served inside for the members of the Rotary Club.

FOUR-TENTHS OF AN INCH FOR THE STORM

According to S. Hill & Son's measurements, the storm up to 7 o'clock this morning produced a fall of 41 in., making 2.88 for the season. Comparison with last year's chart in Hill's window shows that not a drop of rain fell during December of last year, and the fall previous to the first of December was 1.21 in.

Ranchers are well satisfied with the coming this winter. The rains have fallen advantageously. The rain has come down slowly, and that is of considerable consequence as an inch of rain coming down slowly does a good deal more good than an inch coming in a few heavy showers, since the slow rain allows the water to soak in to the ground where it falls.

EUCALYPTUS TREE IS A REAL GIANT

Orange News: When A. L. Taylor of Pomona laid claim to the biggest tree in Southern California, a eucalyptus tree, he was evidently unaware of the existence of the dean of the old Yale Grove eucalyptus trees, owned by Donald Clark of Orange.

The Pomona tree, planted in 1881, is now said to be 15 feet 3 inches in circumference at a point four feet above the ground. Here are the measurements of Mr. Clark's tree on West Palmyra avenue: Height, 150 feet, circumference, six inches above the ground, 31 feet; one foot above the ground, 26 feet; four feet above the ground, 20 feet; six feet above the ground, 18 feet.

The Pomona man considered that 62 cords of wood from one of his trees was a remarkable production. From one tree smaller than his big tree, Mr. Clark got 18 cords.

Group and Cough Remedy

Croup is a terrible disease. It attacks children so often they are very apt to choke unless given the proper remedy at once. There is nothing better in the world than Dr. King's New Discovery. Lewis Chamberlain, of Manchester, Ohio, writes about his children: "Sometimes in severe attacks we were afraid they would die, but after we used what a certain remedy Dr. King's New Discovery is, we have no fear. We rely on it for croup, coughs and colds. So can you. One and $1.00. A bottle should be in every home. At all druggists. H. E. Bucklen & Co., Philadelphia or St. Louis.—Advertisement."

Things You Want to Keep

It would try you sorely to lose some things which you possess; for instance, those jewels which repose, insecurely, in drawers or secret hiding places, and those private papers which are the written evidence of matters of far reaching importance to your interests.

Get them all together in absolute, not questionable safety. It won't cost nearly as much to rent a safe deposit box in the vaults of the Orange County Savings & Trust Company as it would to advertise for them and pay rewards for their return, should they become lost or stolen. Our box renters are taking no chances. They are on the side of safety.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

LIFT SALARIES
IN HIGHWAY
OFFICEProposal Made to Have City and County Join in Dairy Inspection

Yesterday afternoon on the recommendation of the County Highway Commission, the Board of Supervisors raised the salaries of six employees of the Highway Commission. The raises made were as follows: D. S. Halladay, chief engineer, from $250 a month to $275; W. H. Stearns, assistant chief engineer, $150 to $165; G. A. Whidden, secretary, $75 to $85; Mary E. Bryant, stenographer, $75 to $80; C. D. Butler, of office engineering force, $115 to $125; G. R. Wells, of office engineering force, $125 to $135. The raises are to take effect on January 1, 1914.

For Inspection
Dr. John Wehrly, county health officer, and Dr. J. I. Clark, Santa Ana city health officer, were before the board concerning a proposal to establish an effective inspection of dairies. It was shown that the jurisdiction of the city health officer ends at the city limits, yet nearly all of the dairies that supply the city are located outside the city. It was suggested that a dairy inspector be appointed, the county to pay half his salary and the city half. Supervisor H. E. Smith and Dr. Wehrly were appointed as a committee to consider the matter fully.

Contracts Let
On the report of the Highway Commission two good roads contracts were let yesterday. Hart, Chamberlain & Dusey secured the contract for the Garden Grove-Anaheim-Stanton road, about eight miles, at $25,068.20. The south end of this road will join the Santa Ana-Huntington Beach road at the west end of West Fifth street, from which point it will extend northward through Garden Grove to the county road running west from Anaheim. It also includes the portion of a county road between Anaheim and Stanton.

The second contract was let to Conner Construction Company for $1,942.15 for building less than half a mile of road on West Chapman street, Orange, between Main and Batavia streets.

Double Avenue

Supervisor Leck and others of the county officials have been working upon a project to have the state highway pave the north half of the double avenue at Tustin. On the north half some old S. P. rails were placed during boom days. The rails have been moved. The south half has been the traveled road. Yesterday the supervisors carried a motion to ask the state to pave the north avenue, leaving the south avenue as it now is.

Bids on January 20

The board canvassed the returns of the election held for the special levy of $26,000 in the Anaheim-Fullerton road division, and found that the proposition carried as announced by a vote of 24 to 2. January 20 was set as the date for receiving bids for doing the proposed road paving, for which the division was organized. The main road between Anaheim and Fullerton is to be paved full width, the state to pave as intended, the division to pay for the rest of the paving to the curbs.

Grade Proposal

The report that the state will reduce the grade out of La Habra valley to a five per cent grade if Orange County will pay $500 of the cost resulted in carrying a motion. The board agrees to pay $250 of the $500 if citizens will raise the other $250.

The county purchased a safe from M. L. Lane for $45.
Judge Thomas was given permission to buy California Reports, volumes 1 to 79, for use by his court.
Adjournment was to January 5.

The tripiets from Anaheim failed to appear, as had been expected, to claim $100 for being tripiets, and the matter did not come up before the supervisors.
Ramona, Reona and Olena were born to Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Beaver of East Anaheim, on August 9, 1910, and have enjoyed exceptional health during the past three years. Blue eyes and possessing abundant golden curls, they promise to grow to be as beautiful in young ladyhood as they are in babyhood.

The Beaver family includes Rose, another daughter, 9 years of age. Mrs. Beaver is an ideal type of American motherhood, which is attested by the remarkable development of the tripiets.

REPORT HUERTA
WILL RESIGNIf Dictator Leaves Presidency
Will Take Personal Charge of TroopsChester, Fast Navy Boat, Sent to Gulf Port With Envoy Lind

(By United Press Staff Correspondent.)

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 31.—Huerta is believed to be on the eve of surrendering the presidency, and it is believed that his retirement will be discussed at a meeting of his advisers this afternoon. Several, one of the ministers, is reported to have resigned. It is rumored that Huerta will take personal command of the troops against the rebels when his resignation is accepted. There are many guesses regarding his successor.

The Zapatistas practically surround the capital today. Huerta has ordered all banks to cash laborers' pay checks, fearing that every unpaid laborer means another rebel.

FASTEST SCOUT CRUISER
SENT TO GULF PORT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—President Wilson has ordered the Navy Department to send the fastest scout cruiser in the navy, the Chester, to Gulf Port, having on board John Lind, the President's special envoy to Mexico.

The cruiser got under way at Vera Cruz at once and is expected to arrive in Gulf Port in seventy-two hours.

Officials in Washington who are aware of this secret order of the President unhesitatingly say that the presence of Mr. Lind in conference with the President means that a new crisis has been reached in Mexican affairs.

The fact that State Department officials now have ample grounds for the belief that there has been a coalition of interests between Great Britain, Germany and Japan is understood to have prompted the President to get in touch with Mr. Lind, upon whom he relies for advice in Mexican affairs.

REFUSED TO DISCUSS
ENVOY LIND'S VISIT

PASS CHRISTIAN, Dec. 31.—The President has refused to discuss the visit here of John Lind, his personal envoy to Mexico, who sailed last night from Vera Cruz on the cruiser Chester. Quarters were reserved for him here. It is reported that he will bring proposals from Huerta. The President is understood to doubt the dictator's sincerity.

The President golfed this morning. It is announced that he will not celebrate the passing of the old year to night, but will retire at 9 o'clock.

REBEL GENERAL DEMANDS
SURRENDER NUEVO LAREDO

LAREDO, Texas, Dec. 31.—Gen. Gonzales, commanding 1000 rebels, has demanded the surrender of Nuevo Laredo by daylight tomorrow under the penalty of attack, because it is reported that General Quinkan with 1200 federals is en route from Lampasas to reinforce the garrison. It is believed the federals will refuse to surrender.

SLAUGHTER OF FEDERAL EXPECTED IF REBELS WIN

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 31.—This morning the fighting at the Presidio was furious, and both sides are reported to have sustained severe losses. The defenders are gradually abandoning the outer trenches, and a rebel victory seemed certain. The slaughter of federal prisoners is expected when the town falls.

BIG LOAN NEGOTIATED
FOR HUERTA GOVERNMENT

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 31.—Financial Minister de la Llama, recently sent a broad to raise funds for the Huerta government, cabled from Paris that he has obtained $50,000,000 from French financiers.

Marcial and Jose Esperanza, brothers, arrested last night charged with complicity in an attempt to assassinate Huerta at a New Year's reception, were released today.

FEDERAL TROOP TRAIN
DYNAMITED BY REBELS

VERA CRUZ, Dec. 31.—News has been received here of the dynamiting by rebels of a federal troop train 170 miles southwest of Mexico City. Many are reported killed.

FATE OF OJINAGA
IS STILL IN DOUBT

EL PASO, Dec. 31.—Although the fate of Ojinaga is in doubt today, dispatches indicate that the town will probably be in rebel hands by night. Ammunition is running low but the garrison is still offering desperate resistance against almost impossible odds. All advices say that casualties are heavy, especially among the federals. A rebel cordon is drawn about three sides of the town. The American border is the only side not guarded. Federal deserters say the dead and wounded are lying in the streets without attention. The rebels are using ten machine guns and five cannon.

SEX HYGIENE LECTURES
IN CHICAGO SCHOOLS

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—Sex hygiene lectures were delivered to 21,534 public pupils in hygiene schools and normal colleges here in November, according to the report of Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of schools, made public yesterday. Two hundred and thirty pupils, 1.06 per cent of the membership, were excused on protests of their parents that they objected to the lectures.

Mrs. Young expressed a belief that the lectures were a success although she said she was not yet ready for a plan to extend the course to the elementary schools.

Women outnumbered the men in the special sex lectures delivered to adults in the schools. The attendance records showed 2302 women attended compared with 670 men.

CONFEDERATE VETS
IN MISSOURI WILL GET CITY PENSIONS

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Dec. 31.—Many confederate veterans will be disappointed tomorrow for instead of receiving a $30 check from the state of Missouri as the pension promised quarterly, only $18.85 will be received by each old soldier, for there is a deficit of $12,374.40 today. When the Confederate pension act was passed by the legislature at the last session, only $30,000 was appropriated.

This proved to be more than 50 per cent under the amount needed and the attorney general advised that it be prorated. The balance due will be carried over. Two thousand who were the gray for pensions under the act effective October 1, seventy-nine were rejected for various reasons and 108 are being investigated.

When Herbert Dyer of Anaheim flew from the country to escape prosecution on a charge of mistreating his step-daughter, he not only left his bondsmen in the lurch, but also gave some others something to think about financially.

The First National Bank of Fullerton has brought three actions as a result of Dyer's sudden departure. In the superior court is a suit against Dyer for $800, and in the Fullerton township court is one against Dyer for $200 and one against Mrs. Dyer for $125. Sheriff Rudbeck has the attachment papers.

Dyer's property is now loaded with mortgages and attachments for all that it is worth.

Wants to Mortgage
The Placentia Presbyterian church has petitioned for permission to mortgage its property for $1,000 to the Presbyterian Church Extension Fund. The hearing is January 16.

IN THE JUSTICE'S COURT

JUDGMENT OF
$18 IS GIVENJury Decides Case in Which Disagreement Was a Point at Issue

Yesterday afternoon a jury in Justice Cox's court gave judgment of $18 in favor of the defendant in the suit brought by the Santa Ana Produce Co. against Gerrard Bros. for $125. Gerrard Bros.' meat market had a part of the produce store rented, and the produce company and meat market owned a motor and fanning apparatus together. When Gerrard Bros. moved they took half of the fanning and the motor. Clyde Bishop represented the plaintiff and S. M. Davis the defendant. The defendant asked for the jury, and its cost, $25.80, will be added to the judgment against the defendant.

STOLE KEG OF BEER
AND FOUGHT TRAINMENTrain Stopped by Fire Hoboes
Built Near a Santa Fe Bridge

A party of twelve or fifteen hoboes went on a celebration in the sand-wash near the Anaheim sugar factory last night. They started out by breaking into a car and stealing a keg of beer. Hilarity reigned. A big fire was built close to the Santa Fe bridge across the wash.

About 12:50 o'clock the south bound Santa Fe Owl came up. The engineer saw the blaze and thought the bridge was a fire. He stopped the train, and the train crew rushed forward to put out the fire. The hoboes seemed to have a grievance against all trainmen, and they waded into the Owl's crew and gave battle. In the fight the trainmen got all the worst of it.

This morning Special Officers Roth-enhofer and Boggs of the Santa Fe, Under Sheriff Law, Deputy Dean and some Anaheim officers rounded up some of the hoboes. No damage was done to the bridge.

Happy New Year!

HIS NEW YEAR RESOLUTION

BY A. C. SANBORN

STANFORD had just finished his breakfast and his servant was clearing the table when his friend Williams came in.

"Happy New Year's," he called. "Have you made any good resolutions? Suddenly he stopped short. 'Why, what makes you so glum this bright New Year's morning?'"

"Haven't you seen the morning papers?" asked Stanford, pushing one across the table toward him.

"No; what's in them?"

The other simply pointed to one of the headlines, and his friend read, "Failure of Henry Stanford—Head of the Sewing Machine Trust in Liquidation." Williams merely stared at the paper and then at the man opposite him for fully a minute. He could not believe what he had read.

"Why, this is terrible!" he said finally. "How did it happen?"

"Speculation," replied Stanford innocently.

"I'm awfully sorry to hear this," returned Williams. "Is there no way out of it?"

"I see none just now," said the other. "I suppose you think it would be a good plan for me to make a New Year's resolution not to speculate any more. But I'm not going to. Now that this has happened, I have resolved to find out how my friends are—my real true friends, I mean. It may seem like a queer resolution, but it will be an interesting experiment. How many of the people I have befriended in the past do you think will stick to me now that my money is gone?"

"I don't know," replied Williams. "But take my advice and don't try it. You're likely to be greatly disillusioned about many of your so-called friends." "Perhaps," said Stanford. "But I'm going to try it anyway. I want to see what happens."

As soon as Williams had departed he took his hat and stick and set out on his voyage of discovery. He was not really a ruined man, but not a soul in all the world but he and his lawyer knew it. It had been the work of a year of skillful manipulation, this "getting out" with $5,000,000. As a financier he was closely watched, but for all that he had at last successfully effected the withdrawal of that huge amount from the money whirlpool and its quiet investment in steady national securities. The morning papers proved that he had succeeded. Stanford could afford to indulge his whims, and he had planned all this for the simple purpose of finding out who were his real friends. Moreover, he had selected the holidays for the test, so that they day's hurrying of creditors. He had just left the sidewalk when a car drew up, and Roswell Granger sat in it.

"What are you doing on foot?" he called. "I'm hurrying over to catch you before you went out. I wanted to know if you could loan me the use of your car to-morrow to take a party of five over to—But Stanford intended him by pulling a newspaper from his pocket and thrusting it under his eyes. Granger read and gasped. He owed Stanford over a thousand dollars in small loans. "Great Scott!" he said. "This is terrible. I'm awfully sorry. Is it irremediable?"

"Yes," said Stanford curtly. Granger drew back into his car. "I sympathize deeply," he added. "I'll see you at the club later."

When Stanford reached the Stanleys' he saw Edward Martin's car at the curb. Martin was one of Anna's admirers who had not given up hoping that he might win her, even in spite of the fact that it was practically decided in Stanford's favor.

It was Stanford's intention to tell the Stanleys at once about his plan for discovering his friends. He saw in the first glance at the servant who opened the door that the news had already spread through the house, and as the door closed Mrs. Stanley came into the hall.

She started at sight of him. Then she shook hands and began to talk swiftly.

"Happy New Year," she said. "You are our second early caller. Mr. Martin came a little while ago. Isn't it fine weather for a holiday? We are going motoring. I haven't even had time enough to look at the papers this morning."

Stanford was turning cold. The insincerity of the woman was obvious. "Besides," she continued, "we have been thinking of something else—a surprise; Anna and Ned Martin. It seems they've had an understanding between themselves for months past. Anna hinted at something of the kind last night, and this morning they came to us together. It was not just what we had planned for Anna, but what were we to do? They adore each other. So it's arranged."

She stopped with almost a gasp of relief. She had got it out before Stanford explained.

"I see," he said calmly; "you have not looked at this morning's papers?"

"No. Why do you ask?"

"I suppose you are trying to be tactful, Mrs. Stanley?" he said.

The contempt in his eyes and voice stung her, and she gave herself up to anger.

"Well, I was," she replied. "Since you insist, I did see the papers and saw that you were ruined. Was I to throw my daughter into the ruin with you? You expect a great deal too much if you expect that. I have Anna's future to look out for, and I know I am doing the best thing. I am trying to arrange matters so that people will understand that they were engaged before we heard of your failure. You appear to think it contemptible, but I do not, and you will find few people who will."

"And Anna? Is she contented?" inquired Stanford.

"Perfectly. Anna is very sensible."

"Then since I am ruined I am dismissed?" demanded the young man.

"If you choose to be unreasonable and put it that way, yes," she said and left him. Stanford stared around, a little dazed, for a second.

"Why, I thought she liked me—she and Mr. Stanley—and that Anna loved me," he said to himself. He turned to go, and the butler let him out. He walked slowly back to his flat.

When he reached his apartment he found Watson, his lawyer, waiting for him. He looked pale and worried.

"What is it?" asked Stanford.

"Why, they've started already," replied Watson bitterly. "They've been at me like vultures for the money—quite small sums, lots of them—that you owe them. Some of them are like wolves, fighting over priority claims. I've never seen such absolute greediness in my life as some of your 'friends' have shown this morning. It's completely spoiled my New Year. I hope they have hit you hard, hard enough for you to be willing to stop this folly. You're only going to get a broken heart and a soured outlook out of this thing. You must stop it before it goes any further."

"They have hit me hard," replied Stanford sadly. "They've broken me already."

A light of understanding rose in the lawyer's eyes.

"You don't mean the Stanleys?"

Stanford nodded. "The parents certainly have. Anna is to marry Martin. But I can't believe that she loves him." "That moment the door opened, and his servant announced, 'Miss Stanley!' She ran straight to Stanford with her arms outstretched. He had never seen her so beautiful nor loved her more."

"They told me a thousand terrible things," she said. "Mother sent for Ned Martin. I tried to do what they said, but I couldn't—I couldn't. How could I?"

Stanford took her in his arms. She was crying and clung to him like a child.

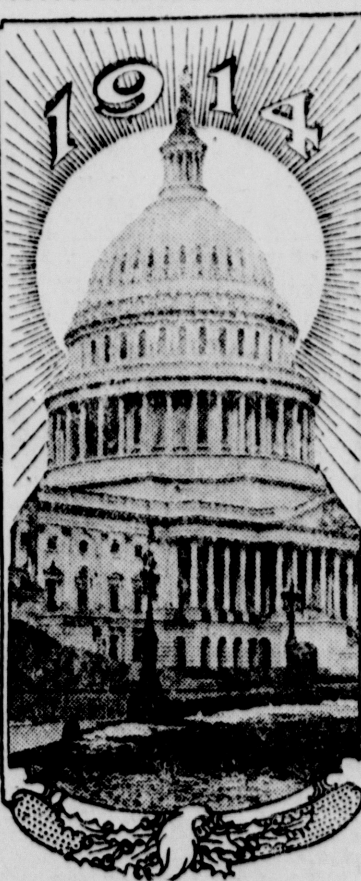

"You have done nothing wrong," he said. "Not even for your father."

For the New Year

The short noon weeps that the hours are fleet
And hides the steps of the sun's bright feet,
But the moon laughs low in the midnight sky,
For she sees the sun's face from her throne on high.

Behind the blank of the vaporous seas
Gleam still, as of old, the hesperides.
The bloom of the rose tree is withered
And gone,
But a new flower sleeps in the root of the rose.

And spring shall come with a flute and a fire
And wake new passion and old desire.
The scarlet poppies shall flame and pass
Out of the clusters of cool young grass.
And the brook shall dance against warm
And the brown fields murmur with shocks
And sheaves.

Out of the city that roars and cries
I send you a dream of delight of the eyes.
Out of the heart of the winter time
I send you a leaf from the young year's prime.

Out of the toil and the trouble of night
I send you a song of the dawn's delight.
For all things die to arise again,
Save pain and sorrow, the shadow of pain.
And beyond the reach of the rack and the rod
There remaineth a rest for the people of God.
—Edmund Gosse.

REVERSING THE ORDER.

The old year dies and the new year
dawns,
But time plays on with the selfsame
pawns;
And still, for all we may say or do,
"New" is but "old" set the other end to.

The old year was "new" few moons ago,
And new year as "old" we soon shall know.

For ever this ancient truth is found—
The "new" is "old" turned the other way round.

The old year goes, with its aged grief;
The new year comes with youthful eyed belief.
But deep though we quaff illusion's cup,
Still "new" is "old" turned the other side up.

—Frederick Maxon.

Even as You and I.

TEN good resolutions standing in a line.
Our hero stepped upon a tack; then there were nine.

Nine good resolutions. Our hero stayed out late—
"A poor, sick friend," was his excuse—then there were eight.

Eight good resolutions, with a little leaving.
A poker party with the "boys"; then there were seven.

Seven good resolutions barely half alive.
"Oh, what's the use?" our hero asked;
then there were five.

Five good resolutions battered, bruised and sore.
Our hero had to go to "lodge"; then there were four.

Four good resolutions as nervous as could
dawns.
Our hero lighted a cigar; then there were three.

Three good resolutions wearing crape and mourning.
Our hero shook the "bones" for beers;
then there were two.

Two good resolutions. When the play was done,
A lobster supper served for two; then there was one.

One good resolution out for air and sun.
The water wagon ran away; then there was none.

—John Northern Hillard in Judge.

On which day will May 17 fall?

"May is here, and now you see leaflets growing on the tree." First Sunday
3, second Sunday 10, third Sunday 17.
Answer, Sunday.

On what day will Aug. 17 fall? "We'll be broiled and roasted too." First Sunday 2, second Sunday 9, third Sunday 16. Therefore 17th is Monday.

Now, when Jones asks you on what day June 22 will fall you answer instantly, "Monday."

After a few minutes' practice it is surprising how quickly this is done.

By the way, when at an evening party you can use this little "wrinkle" for doing your turn in the entertainment. Ask the company to call out one by one the dates of their birthdays and you will tell them instantly on which day of the week they will fall.

Your wonderful memory will "bring down the house!"

are hangers on in the various sporting establishments in Mexican cities. The "stayers" of this latter type took instant and insistent advantage of the offer of Uncle Sam to give them money and tickets to go home. They were the first to rush to the consular offices. Then most of them sold their free tickets and spent Uncle Sam's money in the cantinas and gambling houses of Mexico. Some of them had the nerve to go back to certain consuls a second time, explaining that they had been taken ill and been forced to dispose of their tickets and money. It's safe to say that no American has been able to "graft" a second ticket home.

Up in Chihuahua, in the very heart of the rebel district, where federal rule one day and the rebels the next and where every change means a corpse-thrown street, there lives an American who hasn't moved and won't move. His consort is a Mexican girl and they have three children that are famous throughout the mining district for their beauty.

"I can't go back," he explained to the last little knot of Americans to leave. "But we'll stand all the expenses of moving your family," they offered. "Thank you, very much," he said. "I'm afraid I'll have to stay here and see it out."

He is a Harvard man, the refugee miners say; more than that, and the fact that he's a fine, strong man, with some mistake in his past, they know nothing. In Mexico in these days, you don't ask about a man's past. Why a man is a "stayer" is his own business.

Another American who won't flee from Mexico, no matter what happens, is a little doctor, who had made himself very rich up along the northern border. The story the refugee Americans tell about him is thirty years old, and he's a gray-haired old man who'd probably like to go back to the United States and spend his days in peace, if he could.

The story is that he lived in a certain large American city and that one day, while he was traveling in a transcontinental train along the boundary between the United States and Mexico, the train was wrecked and then took fire. The little doctor was missing. His wife put in a claim for his life insurance, $28,000. The insurance company could not prove that his body was not among the charred and unidentified corpses, and the wife got the money. A few weeks later she went to a certain Mexican town, near the border, only a short distance from the scene of the wreck and met her husband, whole and sound. They started their life anew, and built up a small fortune, but it is one they cannot enjoy in the United States.

The rebels had cleaned him out over night and left him only money enough to get to Mexico City. He had been used to having plenty of money and one of his practices was to buy a ticket in each monthly government lottery. One of these tickets was in a pocket of his only suit when he entered Mrs. Porter's hotel in Mexico City. "Let me put up here, will you?" he asked that good dame. "I'll get some refugee money from the American consul to pay you. All I've got is a lottery ticket. 'Let's see the ticket,'" said Mrs. Porter, who knows a good deal about the lotteries. He fished out the crumpled bit of tissue paper. "You can stay in this hotel—$10,000 worth," said Mrs. Porter calmly. He didn't know how to draw the money so Mrs. Porter went with him to the headquarters of the national lottery and saw a clerk hand ten packets of $1,000 each (Mexican money) to the penniless man. "Me for Chicago," he declared. He's on his way there now. He said his name was Albert Dwingingham and that Chicago was his home.

CHICAGO TO HAVE SWIMMING HOLE DE LUXE IN 1914

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—Chicago will have a swimming hole de luxe in operation when the mercury begins to first climb next summer. The beach commission of the city council today agreed upon plans for a bathing beach to cost $330,000 with a frontage of 738 feet and built along the north shore, already popular with bathers.

Plans for construction of the new beach were made after the commission visited Atlantic City and several other Eastern summer resorts. The main bath house will be of brick, stone and concrete. There will be a pavilion, a broad promenade, a kindergarten for the youngsters and a nursery where mothers may leave their babies while they romp in the lake.

The commission will recommend that persons not in bathing costume be barred from the sand and compelled to remain on the promenade. A space will be roped off for the exclusive use of women bathers and the remainder of the beach left open for mixed bathing. The commission proposed that the city make the nominal charge of 10 cents for adult bathers and five cents for children under fifteen to make the beach self-sustaining.

KANSAS HAS ANTI-HOG CHOLERA SERUM PLANT

MANHATTAN, Kansas, Dec. 30.—In order that Kansas may be better prepared to fight a sudden outbreak of cholera, the state is now erecting a new anti-hog cholera serum plant—to be the largest and best equipped in the world. The present plant has a capacity of something over one million centimeters a month, enough to vaccinate about 20,000 head of hogs. As a precaution against a sudden outbreak of cholera the laboratories here, which are operated by the veterinary department of the Kansas Agricultural College, keeps constantly in reserve enough serum to treat 10,000 hogs. The Sunflower State was among the first to produce such a serum and it is estimated 300,000 hogs have been saved to Kansas farmers by vaccination.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Reports from San Francisco indicated a very unusual market on the three staples, butter, eggs and cheese. This had no effect in prices on the local markets, but in the commodity of butter caused some feeling of weakness. The decline in the price of this product to 29 cents on the northern city was due to the arrival of a shipment from the Antipodes bringing a large shipment of New Zealand butter, some of which arrived here yesterday afternoon and will be on sale today. It may cause a decline from the 31 cents of at least 1 cent. Receipts of California butter have been heavy within the past few days and continue so, with 46,130 pounds reported in yesterday. This in itself is sufficient cause for a drop.

While butter came down, eggs went up in the north, jumping 5 cents to 53 cents a dozen on case-coat. Receipts have been very good here for some days and there is not much indication of an abrupt advance of that proportion. The arrivals yesterday totaled 166 cases.

OFFICERS RUSH WITH WARRANTS

Trouble Expected at Potash Fields at Searles Lake—Crisis Expected

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 31.—Gun men and county officers started a final rush for the Searles Lake threatened battle fields today and the crisis may come before Wednesday midnight, the time for relocation of the potash claims.

Lewis Rasor of Los Angeles, representing an eastern syndicate who was repulsed in the first brush with the American Trona Company men, started twenty men for the region from this city today. Rasor declares he is not attempting to jump the Trona company claims, but protect the rights of his company in property already located.

Sheriff John C. Ralphs will gather a posse of men on the desert, if necessary. Deputy District Attorney R. E. Hodge accompanied the sheriff. The officers take warrants for the arrest of Guy Wilkerson and five others, alleged to have committed assaults on the Rasor party.

Representatives of Rasor, who in turn is employed by Attorney T. O. Toland of Los Angeles, gathered the crew of twenty men early today and sent them to the desert in automobiles. It is claimed the men are only employed to do assessment work on the properties, but the sheriff has notified both factions that a continuation of threatened bloodshed will not be tolerated.

The American Trona Company already owns 48,000 acres of potash deposits, and Rasor and other desert men declare the corporation is seeking to take up many additional thousands of acres by preventing rival interests from entering the region to protect their rights, if even assessment work is not done.

According to rumors here today a party has escaped the Trona guards and entered the east side of the lake, from Granite Wells or Ballarat. The Trona company is apparently guarding the roads from Johannesburg and Randsburg.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Ten billion dollars' worth of products, five billion dollars of cash income—a bumper year in spite of droughts and other setbacks—is the 1913 record of six million American farmers.

The number of bushels of wheat brought to market by the farmers of the United States last year was 1,100,000,000 bushels, valued at $3,650,000,000. The value of the 1913 crop is twice as great as that of 1899; more than a billion dollars over 1909, and substantially more than 1912. Of all the crops, it is estimated that they are

But despite a record year of crop value—although the record of production has fallen—and the fact that the number of farms has increased 11 per cent since 1910 until there are estimated to be 6,600,000 farms in the country, the department, in a discussion of the subject made public today does not take the view that a lower cost of living will follow as a consequence.
